PREFACE

It is now the third decade of bringing out the District Census Handbooks which contain valuable statistics in respect of each district of the State There have been a slight deviation and improvement in the pattern of Handbooks since 1951 when this publication was brought out as a pioneering effort Since then a number of attempts have been made to bring improvements in its coverage so as to make it more useful to the data users District Census Handbook of 1951 Census contained statistics upto tahsil town level In 1961 the District Census Handbook was made more comprehensive so as to contain elaborate data down to the village level in Rural areas and enumerator block in Urban areas In addition an attempt was made to incorporate the maximum available non-census data also While the census data was readily available in this office for incorporation in the Handbook, the collection of non-census data from the various departments of the State Governmert was a time consuming affair This resulted into inordinate delay in bringing out the District Census Handbooks The 1951 experience made us wiser and keeping in view the immense demand for this publication, it was decided in 1971 Census publication programme to bring out these District Census Handbooks in two volumes covering Parts A & B and C Part A & B contains Town and Village Direcotory and Primary Census Abstract which have been brought out long back to make the data available to the various agencies and the present volume called Part C contains important departmental statistics and full count census tables These tables pertain to the district regarding area houses and population, economic tables social and cultural tables, migration tables and tables on religions, languages etc, and the data generated on the computer for each district tahsil ub tahsil regarding the amenities available in the village

I confess that this publication has been considerably delayed due to non-availability of the data which was beyond my control

I am grateful to various departments of the State Government for supplying the detailed information which has been incorporated in this publication

I owe my sincere gratitude to Shri A Chandra Sekhar the then Registrar General, India and his successors Sarvshri R B Chari and P Padmanabha for their valuable guidance and help which I received promptly whenever I needed it Dr B K Roy Burman, the then deputy Registrar General (Social Studies) had provided detailed instructions and valuable suggestions from time to time on all these topics especially the testing of hypothesis which was originally intended to be tested could not be done in order to avoid further delay I am grateful to him too

My thanks are due to Sarvshri K C Suri, C D Bhatt and S L Bahl, Deputy Directors under whose supervision compilation of the book was completed I also express my sincere thanks to Shri C L Sharma, Investigator and Shri P K Abrol, Statistical Assistant for their sense of devotion and dedication to bring out this volume I am also grateful to Shri K C Rajput, Controller of Printing & Stationery, Himachal Pradesh who got this publication printed neatly and tidily

I shall consider my task accomplished if the readers are benefitted by this book and it is my earnest hope that this publication like other census publications will be of immense help to the census data users

INTRODUCTION

District Census Handbook is an innovation of the 1951 Census. Prior to 1951 Census publications and reports contained data upto Tahsil/Sub-Tahsil, Town and District level. Micro level data i.e. Statistical data for smaller territorial units-villages in rural areas and enumerator's blocks in urban areas-were not published in any Census report With the rapid development and socio-economic changes in the society, necessity of data at micro level was felt considerably by the Government, Economists, Scholars and various data using agencies. With a view to make available these statistics at micro level, selected Census data was given in the District Census Handbooks of 1951 Census and as such these Handbooks contained important Census data as well as general information relating to history, physical aspects, geology, archaeology, climate, rainfall, administration, medical and public health, education and literacy, agriculture and co-operation, industries, local bodies, places of interest etc. relating to a particular district.

The District Census Handbooks for 1961 Census underwent complete transformation and attempts were made to make them more comrehensive and informative. Each District Census Handbook in 1961 Census comprised of four parts, as discussed below :

Part I—This part comprised mainly of write-up supported by tables on all the important topics such as physical aspects, population, the people, district administration, education and public health, agriculture, fisheries, animal husbandry, panchayats, local bodies, co-operatives, banking, industry, employment, service, communications and road development, land tenure, price trends and community development, flora and fauna etc.

Part II—All the census tables pertaining to a district were incorporated in this section.

Part III—This part of the Handbooks contained the administrative statistics on agriculture, administration, medical and public health, local bobies, transport and other government departments.

Part IV—Village Directory which rendered an account of each village and town in the district was given in this part of the Handbook. The census information in this part was given under 36 columns. In addition, the information with regard to the level of development and amenities available in each village was also incorporated.

1971 Census, efforts have been made to make available both census as well as non-census data in a uniform manner under an enlarged perspective. The District Census Handbook of 1971 Census has been split into three parts and is being brought out in two independent volumes with a view to make census and non-census statistics available to the data users, as early as possible.

Just after census intake there is always increasing demand for census data by the administrators, planners, scholars and other agencies, and as such the utility of the District Census Handbook giving data upto village level for rural areas and enumerator's block in urban areas becomes all the more significant. It was with this end in view that for the 1971 Census, priorities have been fixed for publication of different sets of information in separate volumes. This would, beyond doubt, result in reduction of time-lag that usually occurs in making the information avaiable to government and other data users. In order to avoid delay at various stages it was decided to bring out District Census Handbooks for 1971 Census into three Parts X-A, X-B and X-C for Himachal Pradesh. Parts X-A and X-B have been combined and Part X-C, the present volume is being brought out independently. The details of the contents of each of theparts are as follow :

Part A—Town Directory and Village Directory :

Data relating to important characteristics alongwith other information for each town in a district have been compiled in the form of seven statements. The first six statements contain non-census statistics on a variety of subjects like status, growth history and functional category of towns; physical aspects and location of towns; municipal finance; civic and other amenities, medical, educational, recreational and cultural facilities in towns trade, commerce, industry and banking. The seventh statement contains census data on religion in respect of each town.

The Village Directory, another section of Part A, gives particulars of amenities available in each census village relating to availability of educational and medical institutions, power supply, drinking water, communications, particulars of staple food, land use patterns, weekly markets and places of religious, historical or archaeological interest in the village. The distance of each village from the nearest town also forms a part of Village Directory

Part B—Villagewise and Townwise Primary Census Abstract :

Part B of the District Census Handbook contains primary census data for each census village in rural areas and block ward in urban areas This micro type data pertain to area, occupied residential houses, number of households, total population and its sexwise break-up, sexwise literate and educated persons and working and non-working population The workers have further been classified into nine broad industrial categories i e {a} cultivator, {b} agricultural labourer, {c} livestock, forestry, fishing, hunting and plantations, orchards and allied activities, {d} mining and quarrying, {e} manufacturing processing, servicing and repairs with two sub categories as {i} household industry and {ii} other than household industry, {f} construction, {g} trade and commerce {h} transport, storage and communications and {i} other services and the non-working population with sexwise break-up has also been presented in this volume

Part C—Administrative Statistics and Report :

Part C of the District Census Handbook is an important step in the direction of dissemination of useful socio-economic information about each district As mentioned in the preceding paragraphs there has been a general demand from the administrators, public and research workers for authentic information on various aspects of the district Keeping in view this growing demand from various quarters the Census Organisation initiated to compile this part of the publication giving comprehensive and detailed information relating to economic and social aspects of the district

In this section of the Handbook attempts have been made to include administrative statistics pertaining to the district in various fields of development The general population tables pertaining to the district with regard to area, houses and population, decadal variation in population and classification of villages by population-size form an important part of this publication

Economic tables under prescribed headings such as workers and non-workers according to main activity classified by sex and age-groups, industrial classification of persons at work other than at cultivation as main activity by sex and industrial categories, industrial classification by sex and class of workers of persons at work in non-household industry, trade, business, profession or service as main activity, occupational classification of persons at work according to main activity other than cultivation classified by sex, age-groups and educational levels in rural areas, secondary work i e persons having main activity as {i} cultivators, {ii} agricultural labourers, {iii} household industry, {iv} non-household industry, trade, business or service and {v} non-workers classified by sex and by secondary work, non-working population by sex, age-groups and type of activity have been given in this report

Social and cultural tables representing composition of households by relationship to head of household classified by age groups, age, sex and education, distribution of languages {inclusive of mother-tongues grouped under each} specified in Schedule VIII to the Constitution of India for district tahsils sub-tahsils and towns, speakers of different languages and mother-tongues {inclusive of mother-tongues where grouped} other than those specified in Schedule VIII to the Constitution of India for district,tahsils sub-tahsils, religion and classification of scheduled castes and scheduled tribes by literacy and industrial category of workers and non-workers according to main activity have also been incorporated in this publication.

Migration tables also find place in this publication and covers population classified by their place of birth, migrant workers and non-workers according to main activities classified by place of last residence and migrants classified by place of last residence, age-groups duration of residence and marital status

Establishment and Housing tables have also been included in this publication These tables contain information about distribution of establishments by broad types, distribution of manufacturing, processing or servicing establishments other than household industries classified by registered factories, unregistered workshops and size of employment, distribution of manufacturing processing or servicing establishments other than household industries classified by industry, fuel power or manual used and size of employment, distribution of household industry establishments classified by industry, fuel/power used and size of employment; distribution of trade/commercial establishments classified by the type of business or trade and size of employment; distribution of establishments {other than manufacturing, processing or servicing or business and trade establishments} by size of employment; census houses and the uses to which they are put; distribution of census houses by predominant material of roof and wall; households classified by number of members and rooms occupied.

Special tables on Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes are also included in this publication. These tables gives the industrial classification of persons at work and non-workers by sex for rural areas; age and marital status; education in rural areas and persons not at work classified by sex, type of activity and educational levels of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes separately. Religion for Scheduled Tribes is also given in this part.

CONCEPTS AND DEFINITIONS

In all the Censuses throughout the world the dichotomy of rural and urban areas is recognised and the data are generally presented for rural and urban areas separately. So it would be better to know the census concept of villages and towns as adopted for the 1971 Census in Himachal Pradesh.

(i) Concept of Census Village :- In 1961 Census village was the same as a Revenue village. After reorganisation of State of Punjab, Haryana and Himachal Pradesh and Union Territory of Chandigarh on 1st November, 1966, some areas were transferred from the composit State of Punjab to Himachal Pradesh. Whereas in some of these newly merged districts/tahsils etc. the revenue village was comparable in population size and area to the revenue villages of the old districts yet in most of the cases the average revenue village was much bigger in area and population than its counterpart in the old districts. The difference was so marked that it rendered comarison of the villagewise statistics an exercise in futility. Therefore smaller rural units were considered as Census units in most of the newly merged areas of Himachal Pradesh. It may be relevant to detail here areawise, the names of the Smallest Census Rural Units considered as Census Villages in Himachal Pradesh. This information is as under :-

| Name of smallest Census Rural Units considered as Census Village | Areas where considered |
| 1 | 2 |
| 1. Revenue Village | (i) In the Districts of Chamba, Mandi, Bilaspur, Mahasu, Sirmaur, Kinnaur and Simla. |
| | (ii) Una Tahsil and Amb Sub-Tahsil of Kangra District. |
| 2. "Tikka" having a district sub-hadbast number. | Kangra District excepting Una Tahsil and Amb Sub-Tahsil. |
| 3. "Phatti" having a distinct sub-hadbast number. | Kulu District. |
| 4. Village Hamlet (with/ without distinct sub-hadbast number). | Lahul & Spiti District. |

(ii) Census Definition of Town :- The standards laid down for considering a place as an urban area were broadly the same as in 1961 Census. The criteria adopted for determining an area as urban areas in 1971 Census was as follows :

"To qualify for recognition as an urban area a place should first be either a Municipal Corporation Area or a Municipal Area or under a Town Committee or Notified Area Committee or a Cantonment Board. If it did not have any of these urban local bodies to administer the affairs, then the following empirical tests should be applied:-

{i} A minimum population of 5,000 {Estimated for 1971}

{ii} A density of not less than 400 per Sq. Km. {1,000 per Sq. Mile}

{iii} 3/4th of the occupations of the male working population should be outside agriculture and,

{iv} the place should have, according to the Director of Census Operations, of the State, a few pronounced urban characteristics and amenities".

Thus, all the places having an urban local body such as Municipal Corporation or a Municipal Committee or a Notified Area Committee or a Cantonment Board were obviously treated as towns in Himachal Pradesh. However Lahul & Spiti district is entirely rural and therefore the statistict relating to urban areas do not find place in this publication.

The following extracts from the manual of instructions to enumerators and other relevant records on the basis of which these tables are compiled will be useful for proper understanding and appreciation of the data contained in this publication.

CENSUS HOUSE :

A Census House is a building or a part of a building inhabited or vacant and having a separate main entrance from the road or common courtyard or stair-case etc., used or recognised as a separate unit. It may be used for residential or non-residential purposes or both. If a building has a number of flats or blocks which are independent of one another having separate entrance of their own from the road or a common stair-case or a common courtyard leading to main gate, they are considered as separate Census Houses. If within a large enclosed area there are separate buildings, then each such building is also considered as a separate House. If all the structures within an enclosed compound are together treated as one building then each structure with a separate entrance is treated as separate Census House.

CENSUS HOUSEHOLD :

A Household is a group of persons who commonly live together and would take their meals from a common kitchen unless exigencies of work prevented any of them from doing so. A household may be made up of related or unrelated persons.

HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD :

The head of the household for census purposes is a person who is recognised as such in the household. He is generally the person who bears the chief responsibility for the maintenance of the household and takes decisions on behalf of the household. The head of the household need not necessarily be the eldest male member, but may even be a female or a younger member of either sex.

In the case of institutional households like messes, boarding houses or friends living together, the manager or superintendent or the person who has administrative responsibility or who by common consent is regarded as the head should be recorded as the head of the household.

HOUSELESS POPULATION :

Houseless population refers to that section of population which have no house to live in such as persons living on the road side, pavements or in open temple mandaps and the like.

INSTITUTIONAL POPULATION :

It refers to a group of unrelated persons living together in institutions such as boarding house, hostel, hotel, chummery, jails and hospitals etc.

ESTABLISHMENT :

An Establishment is a place where goods are produced or manufactured not solely for domestic consumption or where servicing and/or repairing is done such as factory, workshop or household industry or servicing and/or repair workshop or a place where retail or wholesale business is carried on or commercial services are rendered or an office, public or private or a place of entertainment or where educational, religious, social or entertainment services are rendered. It is necessary that in all these places one or more persons should be actually working. Thus an establishment will cover manufacturing, trade and other establishments where people work.

MOTHER TONGUE :

Mother tongue is the language spoken in childhood by the person's mother to the person. If the mother died in infancy, the language mainly spoken in the person's home in childhood will be the mother tongue. In the case of infants and deaf mutes the language usually spoken by the mother was recorded as mother tongue.

MARITAL STATUS :

All persons were divided into four major categories of marital status namely {i} never married {ii} currently married {iii} widowed {iv} separated or divorced.

A person who has never been married at any time before is considered as never married. A person currently married, whether for the first time or another time and whose marriage is subsisting at the time of enumeration with the spouse living is taken as married. A widowed person whose husband or wife is dead and who has not been married again is considered as widow. A person who has been separated from wife or husband and is living apart with no apparent intention of living together again or who has been divorced either by a decree of law court or by an accepted social or religious custom but who has not remarried is taken as separated.

LITERATE AND EDUCATED PERSONS :

A person who can both read and write with understanding in any language is considered as literate. A person who can merely read but cannot write is not taken as literate. It is not, however, necessary that a person who is literate should have received any formal education or should have passed any minimum educational standard.

MAIN ACTIVITY :

Every person was asked what his main activity was, that is, how he engaged himself mostly. All persons were divided into two broad streams of main activity namely {i} as worker and {ii} as non-worker, as discussed below :

Worker: In 1971 Census a persons whose main activity was participation in any economically productive work by his physical or mental activity was treated as worker. Main activity is the one in which one engaged oneself mostly. Work involves not only actual work but effective supervision and direction of work. The reference period was one week prior to the date of enumeration in the case of regular work in trade, profession, service or business If a person had participated in any such regular work on any one of the days during this reference period and that work was returned as his main activity the person was categorised accordingly. Further, the main activity in case of seasonal work such as cultivation, livestock keeping etc , was ascertained with reference to such work in the preceding one year. Total population having been divided into the two groups of "Workers" and "Non-workers", the workers have further been classified by 9 broad categories according to their main activities The 9 categories are briefly described hereunder :

I. Cultivator :

For the purposes of the Census a person was considered as a cultivator if he or she was engaged in cultivation by himself/herself or by supervision or direction in his or her capacity as the owner or lessee of land held frpm private persons or institutions for payment of money, kind or share. Cultivation involves ploughing, sowing and harvesting and production of cereal and millet crops such as wheat, paddy, jowar, bajra, ragi etc , and pulses, raw jute and kindred fibre crop, cotton etc. and other crops such as sugarcane, ground-nuts, tapioca etc , and does not include fruit growig, vegitable growing or keeping orchards or groves or working of plantation like tea, coffee, rubber, cinchona and other medicinal plants.

II. Agricultural Labourer :

A person who worked in another person'sl and for wages in money, kind or share was regarded as an agricultural labourer. Such a person has no risk in the cultivation but he merely works in another person's land for wages. The labourer could have no right of lease or contract on land on which he works.

III. Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting and Plantations, Orchards and Allied Activities :

Those engaged in livestock production, agricultural services, hunting, trapping and game propagation, forestry and logging, fishing, plantations, orchards etc., are included in this category.

IV. Mining and Quarrying :

This category includes all those who are working in only Mining or Quarrying activities.

V. Manufacturing, Processing, Servicing and Repairs :

This category has two sub-categories as below :

(a) Household Industry : A household industry is defined as an industry conducted by the Head of the Household himself/herself and/or mainly by the members of the Household at home or within the village in rural areas and only within the premises of the house where the houshold lives in urban areas. The industry should not be run on the scale of a registered factory. Further, according to the census concept a household industry relates to production, procsssing, servicing, repairing or making and selling of goods.

(b) Other than Household Industry : This subcategory includes Manufacturing, Processing, Servicing and Repairs, other than Household industry as described above.

VI. Construction :

Those engaged in any type of construction and allied activities are included in this category.

VII. Trade and Commerce :

This category includes all those persons who are engaged in wholesale or retail trade in any goods. Those working in Restaurants and Hotels, Banking, Financing, Insurance, Real Estate and Business services are also classified under this category.

VIII. Transport, Storage and Communications :

This category includes Land, Watar and Air Transport. All activities connected with storage & ware-housing and communications like postal, telegraphy and telephone etc. are also included in this category.

IX. Other Services :

Those engaged in community, social and personal sevices, including public administration, medical and health services, recreational and cultural services, community services are included in this category. Persons who happen not to adequately describe their activities or those whose services are not classified elsewhere also form part of this category of workers.

X. Non-Workers :

This group consist of those persons whose main activity is returned as one of the following :

{i} Household duties.
{ii} Students.
{iii} Retired persons or rentiers.
{iv} Dependents.
{v} Beggars etc.
{vi} Institutions-inmates of.
{vii} Other Non-Workers {Those seeking work}.

SECONDARY WORK :

Details of secondary work were recorded for all workers as also for the non-workers. This will cover cases like persons performing household duties or students who may not be engaged in any other economically productive work at all, as also those who though basically performing household duties or student etc., for the purpose of their main activity, still participated in some other economic activity such as helping the household in several items of work, as in cultivation or in household industry or in looking after the cattle, in attending to family business etc. but not to the extent as a full time worker. Such participation will be considered as secondary work of these persons. Mere rendering of service for ones own home or production of goods, for purely domestic consumption are not to be treated as economic activity. Participation in work that goes to augment the income of the household will only be treated as economic activity. A person whose main activity is shown as, say, a clerk in a Government Office ora teacher, also attends to cultivation by his direct supervision or undertakes some tution work, this will be shown as his/her secondary work. A person's main activity may be cultivation and his subsidiary activity as money lending. Again main activity may be agricultural labourer and susidiary work factory labourer and so onand so forth.

CLASS OF WORKERS :

Employer . An Employer is a person who has to employ other persons in order to perform the work entered in question 16 {e} {Description of work} of individual slip. That is to say such a person is not only responsible for his own personal work but also for giving work to others in business mentioned in question 16{e}. But a person who employs domestic servants for household duties or has subordinates under him/her in an office where he/she is employed by others, is not an employer, even if he/she has the power to employ anather personin his/her office on behalf of his/her own employer or employers.

Employee: An Employee is a person who usually works under some other person for salary or wages in cash or kind. There may be persons who are employed as managers, superintendents, agents, etc., and in that capacity employ or control other workers on behalf of their own employers. Such persons are only employees as explained above, and should not be regarded as employers.

Single Worker : A Single Worker refers to a person who works by himself/herself. He/she is not employed by any one else and in his/her turn does not employ anybody else, not even members of his/her household except casually. This definition of a single worker will include a person who works in joint partnership with one or several persons hiring no employees and also a member of a producers co-operative. Each one of the partners or members of such producers, co-operatives have been taken as 'Single Worker'.

Family Worker : A Family Worker is a person who works without receiving wages in cash or kind in an industry, business, trade or service. For the purpose of this definition members of a family may be drawn from beyond the limits of the household by ties of blood or marriage. The family worker may not be entitled to a share of the profits in the work of the business carried on either by the person or Head of the household or other relative.

Members of the household who help solely in household duties should not be treated as family workers.

SCHEDULED CASTES AND SCHEDULED TRIBES :

Scheduled Castes belong only to the Hindu or Sikh religions whereas Scheduled Tribes may belong to any religion.

The Castes and Tribes listed as Scheduled Castes/Scheduled Tribes in Himachal Pradesh under the Government of India, Ministry of Home Affairs, Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes list Modification order, 1956, constitute the Scheduled population in Census. It may be of interest to note here that, infact, two different lists were utilised in the different areas of Himachal Pradesh. Such a course was necessitated in view of the merger of certain areas from the erstwhile State of Punjab in Himachal Pradesh on 1st November, 1966 when the three states of Punjab, Haryana, Himachal Pradesh and Union Territory of Chandigarh were re-organised. The lists pertaining to Punjab were utilized in the newly merged areas whereas the lists pertaining to Himachal Pradesh were utilised in the old areas of the State. These lists are given hereunder:

Computerised tables based on villagewise data given in Village Directory and Primary Census Abstract of District Census Handbook Parts X-A & B have also been included in this part. These tables are helpful to test certain hypothesis on the basis of data given therein.

Departmental statistics have been presented in 26 tables. The data have been collected from the concerned departments such as Land Records, Transport, Economics and Statistics, Agriculture Census, Panchayats, Education, Animal Husbandry, Forests, Police, High Court, Banks, Public Works and Revenue of the State and Central Government and Statutory Corporations.

The present volume relates to District Lahul & Spiti of Himachal Pradesh. Efforts have been made to collect and compile administrative data made available by various State Government offices and this information has been incoporated in this volume to enable the readers to find relevant statistics pertaining to the district at one place. It is left to the readers who are the best judges to know how far it serves them.

A PEEP INTO THE DISTRICT

Lahul & Spiti District commands a strategic importance on the country's north-eastern border beyond which lie Tibet. The district derived its name from the two tahsils of Lahul and Spiti of which it is comprised. Carved-out areas from the then Kulu Sub-Division of erstwhile Kangra District of Punjab formed this district on 1st July, 1960. It was merged to the State of Himachal Pradesh on the 1st November, 1966 as a result of Punjab Reorganisation Act, 1966.

On the north it is bounded by Ladakh district of Jammu & Kashmir, in the north-west and west Chamba and Kulu districts and on its south lies the Kinnaur district. Further it marks the country's boundary with Tibet in the north-east of Himachal Pradesh. The entire territory of Lahul is rugged and higher than its counter part in Kulu. More difficult in terms of terrain, climate and habitation, Spiti sub-division lies at a mean elevation of 4,570 metres while the average height of its mountain ranges is over 5,485 metres above sea level which is slightly higher than the Lahul ranges. The Lahul valley is accessible only in the months of May to October through the Rohtang pass which rises to a height of about 3,980 metres. In order to reach Spiti valley Kunzam pass which is situated at an altitude of about 4,590 metres has to be crossed. This pass has been termed as the gate-way to Spiti. Like Lahul Valley, Spiti is also approachable only in the summer months. Spiti is accessible to the out-side world through Kinnaur rout also. This route is comparatively easier though its last lap is too much tiring.

Lahul & Spiti district is entirely rural. Physical constraints and slow rate of development are the two main factors for the non-existence of Urban areas in the district. Total population of Lahul & Spiti district according to 1971 Census was 23,538 comprising 12,975 males and 10,563 females accounting for merely 0.68 percent of the total population of the Pradesh. The district occupies the lowest position amongst the districts in terms of population size though the population of the district has grown more than double during the last 70 years or in other words the population of Lahul & Spiti has gone up by more than 125 percent since the turn of the century. The highest growth rate was registered during the decade 1951-61, when the population of the district increased at the rate of 60.69 percent as against 17.87 percent in the State as a whole. One of the reasons ascribed to this steep rise was the influx of large number of persons from various parts of the country to carry out the developmental works as also for marning the district level offices when Lahul & Spiti was raised to the status of a district in July, 1960. This percentage increase declined to 15.08 during the period 1961-71 as against 23.04 for the entire State. The area of the district as on 1st July, 1971 according to Surveyor General, India is 12,015 Sq. Km. utilising these are figures the number of persons to a Sq. Km. of area work out to be 2 which occupy the lowest position amongst the districts of the State. The low density can be attributed to its hilly topography and climatic conditions prevailing in certain parts of the district. Another factor leading to its scanty population to a Sq. Km. of area is its vastness in terms of area which in order of its size occupies the first position in the state.

Sex ratio i e. number of females per 1,000 males is the lowest in this district. This is barely 814 as compared to the state average of 958. Consequent upon the expansion of educational facilities, the literacy rate has gone up from 17.50 percent in 1961 to 28.48 percent in 1971. Accordingly 43.28 percent of male population was returned as literates as against 10.29 percent of females. Despite widespread awakening among the people, the female education has comparatively lagged behind because of the traditinalion different and conservative attitude of parents towards female education.

Number of villages in this district has increased from 20 in 1961 to 219 in the present Census. The significant increase of 199 villages in 1971 Census is basically the result of modification in the Census concept of a village. In 1961 Census a bigger revenue estate known as 'Kothi' has been replaced by smaller villages which were refered to as hamlest or phaties in the revenue records. This naturally swelled the number of villages in the 1971 Census. Out of 219 villages in the district, 15 are uninhabited. The maximum concentration of the villages is in the population range of less than 200 (82.3 percent) followed by next 200-499 range (15.7 percent). The bigger ranges of villages 500-999 and 1000-1999 together have only 4 villages in the entire district (2.0 percent). Thus it shall be seen from these statistics that there is preponderance of population living in diminutive villages.

The whole of the district is a tribal area and the bulk of its population comprise of Scheduled Tribes. As per 1971 Censu there were 17,951 persons enumerated as Scheduled Tribes which formed 76.26 percent of the total population of the district. The proportion is merely 1.02 percent in the case of Scheduled Castes. Bhot or Bodh is the predominant tribe class in the district which alone account for 84.43 percent of the total tribal population in the district.

Till the independence of the country, the district had remained neglected from the development point of view. With the start of the planning processes this area received due attention of the planners for its development. As a part of development programme, two Community Development Blocks are functioning in the district. The Lahul Block covers whole of the area falling under Lahul sub-division while the area comprising the Spiti sub-division is served by Spiti Block.

15,240 workers from 64.75 percent of the total population in Lahul and Spiti. Remaining 35.25 percent of the district population are non-workers. Work participation in the district is the highest followed by Kinnaur district weere the percentage of workers to total population is 60.52 as against 36.95 in the Pradesh as a whole. In the entirely rural district of Lahul & Spiti, work participation for females is as high as 613 per thousand as compared to State average of 208. Most of the female working population in the district is engaged in agriculture sector. Males are mostly engaged in agriculture (cultivators and agricultural labourers), construction activities and in other services where the percentages to total male working population are 41.14,27.28 and 24.33 respectively.

Lofty mountain ranges and narrow river valleys are the distinctive features of this district. Its landscapes have unparallel beauty and charm. The high mountains and their peaks attract many trekkers and mountaineers from all parts of the country every year. The temperature start rising from early June and climatic conditions are pleasant till the middle of September. Monsoon season is very short. There is some rain in July and August but generally speaking the weather during summer is cloudless. October and first half of November constitute the transition period. The months from December to March are of severe cold.

The statistical data about the district based on 1971 Census are given in the subsequent pages.

CENSUS TABLES
(Based on Full Count)

FLY LEAF-CENSUS TABLES

1971 Census which was the eleventh decennial Census of India marked the centenary of this gigantic operation which began in 1872. Originally the reference date fixed for the 1971 Census was 1st March, 1971 but later on in order to avoid a clash between the Census programme and the mid-term elections to the Lok Sabha, this had to be postponed and was fixed on sunrise of 1st April, 1971. The enumeration started from 10th March, 1971 and continued till 31st March, 1971 in the synchronous areas. In the snow bound areas of Himachal Pradesh, the census count was taken from 1st September, 1970 to 30th September, 1970. For the conduct of 1971 Census, in all 2,444 census villages spread over in 7 out of the total 10 districts of Himachal Pradesh were treated as non-synchronous (snow bound areas). It is worth mentioning here that all the 219 villages of Lahul & Spiti district were considered as non-synchronous.

Keeping in view the demand of various data users and experts this organisation decided to compile plethora of tables under various headings such as general population, economic, social and cultural, migration, establishment, fertility, housing, special tables on scheduled castes and scheduled tribes and tables for degree holders and technical personnel. In addition it was also decided to reproduce the following census tables based on full count in the present publication. These tables are as follows :

TABLES ON VILLAGE DIRECTORY AND PRIMARY CENSUS ABSTRACT

It was decided to generate computerised tables based on the data given in Village Directory and Primary Census Abstract with an objective to test certain hypothesis. Though these hypothesis have not been tested it is left to the readers to make use of these tables as best as possible.

Computerised tables which form an important part of this publication are as follow :

|---|---|
| Table No. 1 | Distribution of villages with reference to area (in hectares) |
| Table No. 2 | Distribution of villages by selected amenities, infrastructure and land use data with reference to distance from nearest town |
| Table No. 3 | Distribution of villages by selected demographic characteristics and distance range from nearest town |
| Table No. 4 | Average size of village by distance range from the nearest town by size class |
| Table No. 5 | Distribution of villages by size class of population having selected servicing institutions and demographic characteristics |
| Table No. 6 | Distribution of villages by number of hamlets and percentage of Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe population |
| Table No. 7 | Distribution of villages by density of Population per hectare |
| Table No. 8 | Distribution of villages by proportion of Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe population |
| Table No. 9 | Villages by percentage of irrigated area to total cultivated area and density of population per hectare |
| Table No. 10 | Villages by percentage of literacy having and not having telephone with reference to nearest town |

SECTION III

DEPARTMENTAL STATISTICS

Fly Leaf-Departmental Statistics

Since 1951 Census, it has been our endeavour to include departmental statistics in one form or the other pertaining to the district in the respective District Census Handbook. No dout, considerable efforts were made to procure the data for this purpose from various district offices/agencies. The departmental statistics included in the present series of Handbooks are more or less devised on the pattern of the District Census Handbooks of 1951 and 1961 Censuses, so as to make data comparable. A few new tables were added in each census and those of less utility were left off.

This part of the publication is a modest endeavour in the direction of presenting a bird's eye view of the socio-economic position obtaining in the district during the last decade (1961-70). As far as possible efforts had been made to incorporate the data down to the tahsil/sub-tahsil level to facilitate inter-regional comparisons within the district. For this purpose we have heavily leaned on old records, files, notes and reference books and had also undertaken extensive touring in the district. The broad approach in the compilation or administrative statistics had remained the same as suggested by the offiee of the Registrar General, India. In few cases, the data had been collected with slight variation due to the peculiar conditions obtaining in the district.

Departmental statistics high-lighting all important physical, economic, civic and developmental aspects have been presented in 26 tables in respect of Lahul & Spiti district.

Due to reorganisation of the States in 1966 complete data for the decade was not available in most of the cases with the concerned departments. It most therefore been collected from the year 1966 onwards. A broad outline of the contents of each table are given as under :

Table No. 2 incorporates monthwise average rainfall and rainy days recorded at the district and tahsil head-quarters for the years 1966 to 1970.

Table No. 9 gives the bus routes and retated statistics pertaining to ycar 1970.

Table No. 10 gives the tahsilwise directory of Circuit Houses/Inspection Bungalows/Travellers Bungalows/ Tourist Homes/Youth Hostels maintained by P.W D. Ministry of Tourism and Civil Aviation, Local Bodies etc. The details of maintaining/reserving authority have also been shown in this table.

Table No. 12 shows the net area irrigated by various sources of irrigation for years 1966-67 to 1970-71.

Table No. 14 incorporates gross area of various crops irrigated in the district during 1966-67 to 1970-71.

Table No. 16 gives particulars of all banks and their branches located in Lahul & Spiti district in the year 1970.

Table No. 21 shows tahsilwise number of villages having potable source of drinking water as in 1969-70.

Table No. 22 gives tahsilwise number of villages by sources of drinking water as in 1969-70.

Table No. 28 gives particulars of library and reading room facilities available in the district.

Table No. 31 shows tahsilwise land utilisation statistics pertaining to the year 1969-70. It represents total geographical area, area covered by forests, cultivable land, cultivable waste and the area not available for cultivation.

Table No. 32 gives district and tahsilwise total area under cultivation classified into single and double cropped area for the years 1966-67 to 1970-71.

Table No. 33 gives tahsilwise and out-turn of all major food and non-food crops for the years 1966-67 and 1970-71.

Table No. 34 represents district and tahsilwise total area and irrigated area under all major food and non-food crops for years 1966-67 and 1970-71.

Table No. 35 depicts the density of total, rural and urban population per 100 hectares of area under food-grains, area under crops other than foodgrains, net area sown and area sown more than once.

Table No. 36 shows the crude density and density of cultivators, agricultural labourers and total agricultural labourers and total agricultural workers per 100 hectares of net area sown in 1971.

Table No. 37 represents rainfall, density, area sown and irrigated under all major Kharif and Rabi crops in the district during 1970-71.

Table No. 38 shows number of agricultural tools and implements in Lahul & Spiti district in the year 1966.

Table No. 39 gives the district and tahsilwise results of livestock censuses conducted in 1966 and 1972.

Table No. 41 shows tahsilwise location of various types of vaterinary institutions i.e. hospitals and dispensaries located in the district as on 31st March, 1970.

Table No. 44 shows total area under forests classified into reserved forests, protected forests, unclassed or undemarcated forests and forests not under the control of Forest Department for the years 1967 to 1971.

Table No. 59 highlights the distribution of holdings in the district by size-group as in 1970-71 (agricultural year).

Table No. 63 relates to civil justice. The figures shown in the table are consolidated for Lahul & Spiti and Mandi districts.

Table No. 65 shows the strength of police force in the district for the years 1961 to 1970 by various categories of personnel.

Table No. 69 gives the number of local bodies and organs of democratic decentralisation in the district for the years 1961 to 1970.

Table No. 73 gives the receipt and expenditure of Gram-panchayats in the district for the years 1961 to 1970.

Out of 74 tables. 26 have been compilen for Lahul & Spiti district. Despite our best efforts, the information in respect of remaining tables could not be collected because of non-availability of data. In order to maintain uniformity for all the districts in the State the administrative stat isticscollected from various departments of the State have been confined only to the tables indicated above.
