KAMRUP DISTRICT

GENERAL SUMMARY

The population of Kamrup District has increased during the decade by 29·4 per cent., the highest in the province excepting Balipara Frontier Tract where the population is very small. Immigration is responsible for more than a third of this increase. Kamalpur Thana (10·3 per cent.) shows the lowest increase and Barpeta Thana (58·9 per cent.) the highest. Some of the northern mauzas show a little more than the natural increase due to the movement of the indigeneous people from the southern mauzas open to immigrants.

Public health on the whole has not been bad during the decade and there were no serious epidemics except a fairly severe cholera epidemic in Barpeta in 1938 which affected 219 villages and resulted in 945 deaths. Water scarcity is reported to be extremely acute in the northern mauzas.

During the last ten years settled area of land has increased from 2,340,000 acres to 2,512,000 acres, or by 7·3 per cent. The proportion settled with East Bengal immigrants has increased from 17·6 per cent. in 1930-31 to 30·2 per cent. in 1939-40. Agricultural conditions have been fair during the decade although prices have generally been much lower than during the previous decade. The earthquake of 1930 followed by a high flood in 1931 caused some damage to lands and crops especially in Barpeta Subdivision. In 1938 there was a more severe flood which affected the same area. These have not had much serious effect on the general economic condition. From 1930-31 to 1939-40 the area under food crops has increased by 15 per cent. area under Jute by 160 per cent., and that under oil seeds by about 90 per cent. Agricultural production has more than kept pace with the increase in population.

As regards subsidiary cottage industries no comparison with previous censuses is possible, as no statistics about them was collected. Apart from weaving for home needs as elsewhere in the Assam Valley there are many families engaged in weaving, especially endi, for sale. Sualkuchi and Palasbari are the known centres but there are families elsewhere also engaged in this. There are 242 families, mostly Kacharis, in the Baska mauzas of Bara-ma thana, who, it is reported, make specially fine endi cloth. Manufacture of brass and bell-metal articles is another important cottage industry. In 1921 Mr. Lloyd reported that this industry was dying out. In Hajo, its chief centre, there are 82 families still engaged in it. The other areas are Sarukhetri mauza in Barpeta Thana (406 families) and Bansjani mauza in Nalbari Thana (20 families). The other chief cottage industries are making of bamboo articles and Jhapias, pottery and rearing of muga and endi; the last one is chiefly in the villages in Chhayagaon and Boko Thanas. Fifty-nine families in Nalbari Thana (Bansjani and Batasgila mauzas) have been returned as engaged in making handloom parts (বাঁহ).

135,628 males and 19,584 females have been returned as literate at this census as against 73,864 and 6,340 in 1931. 20·1 per cent. of the males and 3·3 per cent. of the females are now literate showing increases of 40 per cent. and 140 per cent. over the corresponding percentages for 1931. Had it not been for the large volume of immigration there should have been a much larger increase, as these immigrants are mostly illiterate. There is great variation in literacy figures as between mauzas. Some mauzas round Nalbari, Hajo and Sila-Sudari Gopa have male literacy figures well over 30 per cent. In immigrant areas it seldom exceeds 10 per cent. while the northernmost mauzas peopled by Kacharis are the most backward. Male literacy in Defeli mauza in Rangia Thana is as low as 2·9 per cent. Schools are very few in those areas. Although female literacy has shown a satisfactory increase still the figure is very low. More than a fourth of the female literates are in towns and the actual female literacy in rural areas is only 2·4 per cent.
